

Creativity

Using our individual talents to make our world a happy place.

Creativity is a core value for our school because Jesus used his gifts to enrich the lives of others. Christians believe we can all help to create a world of harmony and peace. This means using our individual talents to make our world a happy place.

The Bible begins with stories of God creating the world and of Noah using his talents to save the animals on the ark. Jesus used his gifts of healing and teaching and empowered others to do the same. He encourages us to make the most of our gifts in the parable of The Talents.

At St. Martin's Church of England (Aided) Primary School we understand the importance of recognising our talents, however big or small, and of using them for the benefit of others. We have a duty to look after the world through care and stewardship. We show our creativity through using our talents to make our school a happy and exciting place to be.
